Love Was in the Air in Phoenix

The St. Valentine's dance at Southwest Leadership Academy was a big hit as students and staff dances to our own graduate who owns "DJ the New Generation" playing the top 40, hip--hop, and Mexican music. Thanks to a few special of our administrative staff, Esmeralda Delgado, Cinthia Lopez and assistant principal, Jessica Vensel, the dance went off without a hitch and students had a great evening until the "last dance" at 11:15 PM. Although held at the school's cafeteria, the rom was decorated and food was provided along with fun.

The DJ also donned his electronic Robot suit, on stilts, and lit up the room.

Students at the school enjoy getting together and were the epitome of ladies and gentlemen. Dr. Greg Fowler let them in one line dance and guidance counselor, Michelle Harris, ensured that even the boys got on the dance floor.

Everyone remembers their high school dances and this year's Valentine's Dance will be another one for the memory book.
